Office Line

Ergonomics, comfort and individuality – a new dimension in seats

Good speed!

Sit relaxed and enjoy the result.

RECARO is using the practical experience it has gathered from professional motorsport and ergonomic seat construction to develop chairs for the office environment. Besides excellent ergonomics, RECARO office chairs feature the special comfort offered by a genuine RECARO.

RECARO office chairs adapt to any situation, person and requirement. As design is an important and vital part of well-being, the RECARO office chair impresses with its perfect shape and high-quality covers. RECARO Office Line – a symbiosis of a completely new seat concept in the office environment and the decades of experience in the manufacture of car seats. The renowned high requirements placed by the car industry on quality and load capacity guarantee practically infinite durability for the office chair too.

Winners sit in RECARO.

80% of the population suffer with back complaints and tension in the shoulders or neck. In most cases, these complaints are triggered by sitting for hours on end without being able to make compensating movements – a situation that many of us experience in the office everyday. RECARO has made it their business to find a solution – seat concepts that allow more freedom of movement at the workplace. Integrated into the office chair is a weight-adjustable vibration system, which stimulates a dynamic sitting position. The changeable sitting position promotes blood circulation and thus physical and dynamic well-being. The ergonomic upholstery and the higher backrest ensure that the spine stays in its natural S-shape. The long seat cushion guarantees optimal support for the thighs and therefore relieves the leg muscles.

RECARO – the perfect ergonomic profile.
